BONNER BROTHERS' CRAFT CORNER

'Out of the way, Moone! We're doing this bit. We love scaring folks, so Halloween is our favourite time of year. It's the one day we're actually allowed to torment people - and we don't even need to use our torture table!'

'In fact, Halloween is so mixed up that some folks will even reward you for scaring them!'

They give you sweets! And chocolate! And sometimes fruit. Which is really annoying. Those people deserve to be double scared!

So let's get to it! We've made a scary Halloween mask based on what we think Trevor's imaginary friend, Loopy Lou, looks like - or what we think he should look like. If we had an imaginary friend, he'd be so terrifying that we'd scream ourselves to sleep every night! But if you don't think this one's scary enough, we dare you to try something different. Make a vampire, a werewolf, a banshee, a zombie, or whatever you think our imaginary friend would look like. You might find some more inspiration in our Spooky Crossword on page 178.'

1. Get some coloured card and cut it into the shape of the creature you want your mask to be - or use the picture of Loopy Lou on the next page as a basis to draw your own.

2. Cut out holes for your eyes and mouth,

making sure they match up to your face (unless wonky eyes will help your scariness!).

- 3. Now it's time to spookify your mask. Use paints, pencils, pens and other bits and bobs you can find to make it as petrifying as possible!

- 4. Make one small hole halfway down the left and the right side of the mask. Cut a piece of string to go around your head, pass the ends through the holes in your mask, and tie a knot to stop the string slipping out.

- 5. Get scaring!

- 6. Get sweets!

- 7. If you get fruit, scare even harder! Or just ring their doorbell a few times and run like mad!
